RE: FERC Order 745 – Electric Power Supply Association v. Federal Energy Regulatory Commission – United States Court of Appeals Decision

Dear Acting Chairman LaFleur:

On behalf of the Industrial Energy Consumers of America (IECA), we strongly urge the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) to petition the United States Court of Appeals for a rehearing en banc and to take any other appropriate actions to challenge the opinion vacating Order 745. Order 745 and the benefits it provides to the electrical grid, and the ability for our companies to participate in demand response, are very important to IECA member companies.

IECA is an association of manufacturing companies with $1.0 trillion in annual sales, over 1,500 facilities nationwide, and with more than 1.4 million employees worldwide. IECA membership represents a diverse set of energy-intensive trade-exposed (EITE) industries that include chemical, plastics, steel, iron ore, aluminum, paper, food processing, fertilizer, insulation, glass, industrial gases, pharmaceutical, building products, brewing, independent oil refining, and cement.

We look forward to working with you on this matter. Thank you for your leadership.

Sincerely,

Paul N. Cicio
President
